Alliance Convenes 2015 Fall Group Meeting This Week

The Alliance for Clinical Trials in Oncology will convene its 2015 Fall Group Meeting in Chicago November 5-8. Scientists, clinical research professionals, patient advocates and others interested in the latest developments in cancer research are expected to attend the four-day meeting at the Loews Chicago O'Hare Hotel. Meeting attendees will select from nearly 70 disease, modality, administrative and special sessions to attend led by distinguished oncology researchers and clinical trial specialists from across the country. This meeting will showcase novel and innovative cancer control, prevention, and treatment trials that are conducted by investigators through a multidisciplinary academic and community research network, which is part of the NCI National Clinical Trials Network (NCTN) and Community Oncology Research Program (NCORP).

Spotlight on Trials Alliance Researchers to Explore Use of Aspirin to Treat Breast Cancer

Alliance researchers have recently been awarded a $10 million Breakthrough Award by the United States Department of Defense's Office of the Congressionally Directed Medical Research Program to test whether aspirin helps women with breast cancer avoid recurrence and live longer. This is the first ever randomized trial in the U.S. testing aspirin in the disease, which impacts more than 3 million American women who are living with a breast cancer diagnosis.
